Commercial Mediation

We have produced this document to give you a single document which sets out the fees, retainer packages, and likely disbursements involved in a mediation.

Commercial Mediation is often used to resolve disputes between businesses, other commercial entities, directors and/or shareholders. A typical commercial mediation lasts for up to one day.

Our Standard Fees

We charge a fixed fee for mediations:

Dispute value	4-hour mediation (per party)	7-hour mediation (per party)
Up to £50,000	£350	£500
£50,000.01 to £250,000	£550	£750
£250,000.01 to £750,000	£1000	£1250
£750,000 to £1.5m	£1500	£2000
More than £1.5m	£2500	£3500

Our Retainer Package

Under our annual mediation retainer, you commit to a monthly fee and we will provide an agreed number of mediations per year. These can be used by you to resolve commercial disputes, workplace disputes, or civil disputes. The retainer package is particularly useful to larger businesses, trade organisations, businesses involved in high value services, or those with large numbers of employees or clients.

For the purposes of this retainer, any single mediation will count as 1 full mediation, including where it concludes within 1 day.

General

Where a dispute is particularly deep seated, or where settlement is close, the mediation can continue at an hourly rate of £200.00 per party.

Telephone or online mediation is available at a rate of £100.00 per hour per party subject to a minimum of 2 hours.

Quotes can be provided for a half day mediation (lasting for up to 4 hours).

For mediations involving a dispute with 3 or more businesses, we will provide a bespoke quote following receipt of more detailed information concerning the matter.

The only other expenses might be the cost of hiring rooms if the mediation could not take place at the office of one of the parties' solicitors, or the cost of overnight travelling expenses.

All fees above do not include VAT.
